BRISTOL NOTES.

CONTRIBUTED BY THERESA HALL BRISTOL,
Member of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society.

The name was spelled Britsow by the first two or three generations in Connecticut, and this spelling is still used in the southern states and in England. The spelling was changed, says tradition, "because they were from Bristol, England." It undoubtedly changed gradually, because of the spelling of "Bristol," the city in England, and so often repeated in the naming of towns here. There was one John Bristow, a Councillor of Pennsylvania, 1689-91, living at Chester, near Philadelphia, who died in 1695, and who inserted a clause in his will which reads as follows: "If all my children die before they reach the age of twenty-one years, my estate to go to Brother Richard Bristow living in Bristol in Old England." His children were: John, William and Hester. As the names of Richard and John were repeated in the first and second generations of the New Haven line it would seem to be worthy of consideration as to whether these Bristows of a later generation, coming from and connecting with those still living in the city of Bristol, Eng., do not furnish the clue for following up the ancestry of the New Haven line.

The pedigree of the two most prominent families of this name living in England can be found in Burke's Dictionary of the Landed Gentry, vol. I.

According to the usual tradition "three brothers 'Bristow' came to America." There was one Robert Bristow who settled for a time in Virginia, acquired a large estate, and returned to England. At the time of the Revolution this land was confiscated because the owners were living in England. The two brothers who settled in Connecticut were Richard Bristow of Guilford who had no children, and Henry Bristow of New Haven.

1. Henry Bristow of New Haven married (2) Jan. 29, 1656, Lydia, daughter of Francis and Mary (Edwards) Brown. 6. John' Bristol (Joseph,' John,' Henry'), m. Abigail, dau. of James and Mary (Andrus) Benedict of Danbury, Ct.; lived in Farmington, Ct. The original township of Farmington has been so divided and sub-divided into other townships and towns, that it is difficult to decide from the old records just in where or in what part of Farmington John Bristol lived. In 1766, John Bristol of Farmington (indexed Worthington) deeded land to his "son John Bristol, Jr., of Farmington." A letter written by his descendant, Jesse Bristol, gives the place of birth of John, Jr., as "Plymouth," then called Northbury, and that of his son John H., as "Bristol," once called New Cambridge, formed from Farmington. Known children:

Referring back to the Bristols of this branch of the family in the fourth generation, mentioned in the last issue of the Record, the following information has been obtained:

5. Ebenezer* Bristol (Joseph*, John,* Henry*) went to Manchester, Vt., with his only surviving son Abel, and in 1776 was delegate from Manchester to the Episcopal church convention. When the first U. S. Census was taken, in 1790-1, there were living at Canaan, four cousins, all grandchildren of Eliphalet' Bristol, Sr., viz.: Eliphalet and Abel', sons of Aaron, Sr., of Harwinton, Ct.; Benjamin', son of Benjamin, Sr., of Cheshire, North Haven, Woodbury, Waterbury, Ct., and Ft. Edward, N. Y.; and Ashur', son of Eliphalet, Jr., of Woodbury; and several of their sons were already married, and also listed in the census.

He served in the Revolution, enlisting at Albany, and later in the Columbia Co. Militia, in which he was appointed Lieutenant in 1793 and Captain in 1800. Y., confusing him with Miles Bristol of the Newtown Branch, made a very successful attempt to trace the heirs of the latter, and so discovered their error.

ASHUR* BRISTOL (Eliphalet, Eliphalet, Henry*) had land "set off" to him in Canaan. This seems to have been part in Chatham and part in Austerlitz (all once included Canaan) as per two indentures made between two of his sons, Eliphalet and Ashur, when Eliphalet quitclaimed land in Chatham, in 1818, whereof Ashur Bristol died seized. This was recorded in 1832. In 1831, Ashur Bristol and Olive, his wife, sold the land "in Austerlitz" formerly owned by Ashur Bristol (deceased). This land was...
bounded on the north by the highway leading from Hudson to Stockbridge and "next the land now in the possession of the widow of Israel Bristol." Children:
