OLD SILVER CLAIMS TO BE WORKED AGAIN

A mining deal that will interest all of the old prospectors and miners in this section of the State has been negotiated in this city, says the San Bernardino Sun, so far as the passing of the first money is concerned, which will probably result within 90 days in a transfer of title the "Allie" mine in Ivanpah valley, from William McFarlane of North E street, to Messrs. Greening and Weinburg, prominent mining and stock men of the county.

Around the "Allie" mine hangs a romance of silver. It is practically the original silver mine in San Bernardino county, and William McFarlane, who located it and has owned it since 1870, has the distinction of molding the first bar of silver bullion ever taken out in the history of the county.

Back in the days when mining was not child's play, when Pullman sleepers and diners were not at one's call to make the trip to Ivanpah valley, that section was exciting the interest of the country, for, the wealth of silver which was being produced, and in those days the "Allie" made a reputation as producing $350,000 in silver bullion, in fact ore shipped from the mine would run from $3000 to $6000 to the ton.

A slump in silver rang down the curtain on the mines of Ivanpah, and for years not a pick has resounded in the tunnels and shafts on the "Allie" mine, but silver is now back in favor, and President Greening of the Rock Springs Cattle company, and his partner, Mr. Weinburg, have turned their attention to the long closed mine, and have secured from Mr. McFarlane a 90-day's option on the property. They asked Mr. McFarlane to set his own price on the mine, and he did, and the words were hardly uttered than they jumped at the figures.

They are now in possession, and activity has once more awakened the long silent tunnels. It is said that one old miner, Billy McDermitt, who is known as the "guardian of Ivanpah valley," having been in that section for the past after which the present shaft will be continued down, or another started if developments should indicate a more suitable location.

The Gold Dollar vein is from 18 to 24 inches wide at the surface, carrying from $60 to $70 a ton. At 40 feet depth it had widened to 30 inches with from $90 to $100 a ton gold value. At the bottom the vein is as wide and horns free gold in paying quantities. The shaft has passed through the bonanza shot. A large amount of shipping ore is now sacked and is awaiting transportation.

A new discovery has been made on California Hills ground 300 feet from the Gold Dollar. In a three-foot porphyry dyke has been opened something over a foot of quartz, which samples about $16 in gold and silver. A prospect shaft is to be started at once. On the Nighthawk claim, the south extension of the Gold Dollar the owners are now sacking $40 ore at a depth of 17 feet.

This district is 16 miles south of Homer on the main line of the Santa Fe, and water is plentiful. The country rock is granite, traversed by strong east-west porphyry dykes and with many veins which have a northeast southwest strike and a southeast dip of about 45 degrees. So far as developed, these veins appear to be strong with well-defined walls and the earmarks of permanency. They are sometimes isolated, but more frequently occur in groups or parallel fissures. One property, near the Gold Dollar, has eight distinct quartz ledges, ranging from a foot to two feet wide and cropping close together in a zone of mineralized porphyry.

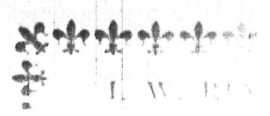

Though the geology of this district has as yet not been closely examined, successful mining men are much impressed with its possibilities and are investing money. It is thought that it may very probably become a leasing district.

H. E. Woods and some other of the California Hills people have formed the Goldbend Townsite company, which has laid out a new town to be called Gold-were hardly uttered than they jumped at the figures.

They are now in possession, and activity has once more awakened the long silent tunnels. It is said that one old miner, Billy McDermitt, who is known as the "guardian of Ivanpah valley," having been in that section for the past 30 years or more, waved his hat, shouted and actually wept when he saw the bustling preparations of the "Allie" mine, and has been given the position of guard at the property. He knew the old mine when it was at the height of its fame as a producer.

Mr. McFarlane yesterday confirmed the news from Ivanpah valley, and stated that the parties named had already been given an option which would expire in 90 days. He believes that the valley is in for another thrifty time, and will, ere long, be the scene of as great activity as it was in the days of old.

Not only has the "Allie" mine been taken up again, but the "Ivanpah Group" is also being operated. Tuesday, A. D. McAvoy, a prominent mining man was in from there, and gave out a most glittering account of the prospects. He and his partners have bonded the Ivanpah group for $150,000, and the results so far attained give them confidence that they will be able to make purchase outright, as new bodies of ore have been discovered even richer than were mined 35 years ago.

GOLD BEND DISTRICT IS SHOWING UP WELL

Development of the Gold Dollar vein by the California Hills Company has recently shown very high gold values and has greatly stimulated activity in the Goldbend district of eastern San Bernardino county, says the San Bernardino Index. This now promises to be an important mining region.

The California Hills shaft is 60 feet deep and still in ore, though the rich shoot is raking south and has all but passed out of the shaft.

It is learned from H. E. Woods that a drift will be started on this ore body to determine its length and that considerable cross-cutting will be done, pressed with its possibilities and are investing money. It is thought that it may very probably become a leasing district.

H. E. Woods and some other of the California Hills people have formed the Goldbend Townsite company, which has laid out a new town to be called Goldbend, in the heart of the district.

The California Hills company will at once begin the construction of buildings, including a boarding house and office. A deep well for town water supply will be started. In the meantime water will be hauled from the Van Slyke shaft two miles distant, and, if need be, from a county well near by in which there is an unfailing supply.

Survey of the townsite was completed last week.

Prospectors and mining men are going rapidly into the district and signal success seems to have been met with by some of them. A very genuine excitement, caused by high grade shipping ores near the surface is probable.

The wagon haul is not long and rail charges to Needles smelter are reasonable. The district is in the mineral belt which borders the west bank of the Colorado river from the Black Canyon, above El Dorado, to the region of Monument Peak, where copper and gold discoveries of much promise have been made of late.

STREETS PAVED WITH GOLD

Guadalajara, Mexico, boasts streets that are literally paved with gold. It has just been discovered that gold and silver to the value of $6000 exist in the asphalt pavements laid there in the last two years by the Mexican Asphalt Paving Company. In the preparation of the asphalt mixture the company used tailings from old Spanish and Mexican reduction works in the Eetzatlan district. A few days ago a big shipment of tailings was received for additional work and wholly through curiosity the company's local manager had a number of assays made. These assays revealed the fact that the tailings average $15 a ton in gold and silver. Already about 400 tons of tailings have been used in pavement construction.

GARLOCK MINES

J. S. Hooker, C. W. Bland and Mr. Decker, who are mining at Mesquite Springs, near Garlock, and who have been doing assessment on their claims, left for Los Angeles last Friday. They report most excellent prospects and show some very fine specimens of ore from their mines. The prospects in and around Garlock are very good, the ledges being big, and if these same properties were located over in Nevada where the excitement now prevails, would bring in capital and prove valuable. It takes a little time, but these gentlemen, together with Tom Jackson and others, will surely succeed if they have the grit to hold on. The locality is very favorable for milling as there is plenty of water and a fine road direct to Mojave.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

At a regular business meeting of the Yellow Aster Social Club held January 3, 1907, the following resolutions of respect were passed:

Whereas, The Supreme Ruler of the

The jury rendered a verdict that Arnold came to his death from a gunshot wound fired by some one unknown to the jury.

RESTING SPRINGS MINING GROUP SOLD

A mining deal involving in the neighborhood of $350,000 was concluded last Friday by the filing for record of deeds transferring from J. B. Osborn and the Drew company title to the Resting Springs mining group, composed of 21 mines, all running to high values in copper, lead, silver and gold, says the San Bernardino Sun.

The deeds were signed at the Farmers' Exchange bank, San Bernardino, last Friday morning. Fred Drew, as secretary of the Drew Company, placing his signature to the documents, and immediately thereafter the consideration in gold coin was exchanged, after which the Tecopa Mining company transferred to the Tecopa Consolidated Mining company, which is the purchaser of the group, all its interest, acquired under an option taken from Mr. Osborn and the Drew company last fall.

This is the largest single mining transaction occurring in this county in years. Under the option given the Tecopa company the mines have been worked quite extensively of late, this work resulting in uncovering such vast quantities of high grade ore that the option was speedily closed, and operations will now be commenced on a very large scale.

Mr. Osborn has owned the group for the past 30 years, while the late H. L. Drew, former president of the Farmers' Exchange bank, became associated with Mr. Osborn in the ownership years ago, and the estate has since refused many flattering offers, realizing that the value of the property must more than double once transportation facilities were secured.

The group is situated near the Inyo county line. The completion of the Tonopah & Tidewater railroad brings the line within seven miles of the property, and at once solves all the transportation problems which in the past proved an obstacle to extensive and continued work. Another factor favorable to the development of the property is the steady increase in demand of the ores contained in the group.

the rush in this district. They opened up 18 inches of 40 per cent copper ore. At 60 feet they commenced drifting and have now two feet of ore in the face. Of this six inches assays 50 per cent copper and the balance will average 25 per cent of copper.

The first man to reach the camp after the news got out was J. L. Toomis. He succeeded in locating about 18 claims. On about 10 of these he is shipping ore right on the surface and on one claim with about half an hour's digging he uncovered three feet of ore averaging 26 per cent copper.

Walter Osborn and E. E. Faris located some 16 claims. On one group of claims the ledge can be traced through the length of six claims, or 9000 feet. On one claim they have a ledge of low grade ore 15 feet wide and they have several streaks of ore from three to 12 inches wide and assaying from 26 to 35 per cent copper.

Messrs. McCormack and Patrossa, associated with John Denair, late superintendent of the Santa Fe railroad, made a rich strike the second day they arrived in camp.

The second day they were in the hills they secured a couple of fine claims and within 30 minutes after they erected their location monument they uncovered eight inches of ore that will net them $4 a sack.

The future of the camp looks particularly bright. While the pay streaks are usually small, they are very rich, and all the ore will net the owners, after all charges have been paid, from $3 to $5 a sack. The camp is surely a "poor man's camp," as it is only three miles from the railroad and seven miles from the smelter. Practically every claim so far located has shipping ore right on the surface and a man can commence to get out ore with very little more capital than his physical ability. The mineral zone covers over nine square miles, of which about half has been prospected.

Randsburg weather has been trying to compete in the weather line with the valleys and ordinary parts of the State. We have had some beastly weather, cold, rain and snow. One day it will snow and the next day rain all day. Wednesday of last week was the rainiest day we have ever had in Randsburg before. It rained all day and Monday was nearly as bad with six or eight inches of snow to begin with. Today the wind is in the southeast and indications point to more snow and rain.

THE TUNGSTEN MINES AND THE NEW MILL

Atolia is now one of the most active little mining camps in this part of the desert. Situated about four miles south of Johannesburg on the Randsburg railroad the buildings are located on a street, over 100 feet wide, running east from the railroad and immediately adjoining the principal mine, the "Papoose."

This mine has been worked less than a year and grows better all the time. The principal working shaft is down between two and three hundred feet. Heretofore they have either shipped their ore direct to Germany, or have had it transported to Barstow and then

A FINE SPECIMEN

In Mr. Illingworth's store can be seen the finest specimen of petrified wood ever found on the desert. It was dug out by Henry Chrysler about six miles from Mountain Spring canyon in the Argus range north of here. It is bright and clean and shows every fibre of the wood. It is a specimen of a pine tree, supposed at least, and is two and a half feet long, about 30 inches around and weighs 100 pounds. The color is pure white while the knots and resin show an amber hue. Such a specimen is valuable.

MARRIED

Mrs. Eva Band and John Cassau were married in San Bernardino a week ago. Mrs. Band was the lady who has been keeping house for John Blake of Kramer for some months past and Mr. Cassau is a cattle man. We wish the couple a prosperous voyage on the sea of matrimony.

tween two and three hundred feet. Heretofore they have either shipped their ore direct to Germany, or have had it concentrated at Barstow and then shipped. Now they are erecting a mill of their own and have it near completion.

The new mill building is 80x36 feet and is very substantially constructed. The timbers are heavy and the foundations are concrete. The main ore bin will hold 100 tons and the bin from which the ore feeds to the rollers is 71 feet above the foundations and holds 50 tons. The outside is covered with galvanized corrugated iron and the whole is surmounted with a flag pole of different sizes gas pipe running up over 100 feet from which will float a fine American flag, now on hand and simply awaiting the completion of the mill to be unfurled to the desert breezes.

In the concentrating room, which is 40x40 feet, will be located six 6-foot Fruevanner concentrators and the pulp belt elevator to carry the water and tailings to the settling tanks. These have a capacity of 18,000 gallons for pumping back purposes. It will require about 2000 gallons per hour and they have a reserve tankage capacity of 60,000 gallons. The water will be brought to the mill on cars from Hinckley on the Santa Fe road.

The mill is a Huntington roller mill with a capacity of 12 to 15 tons and is run by a Fairbanks & Morse gasoline engine of 15 H. P. A second engine of the same size and make will run the rock breaker, the concentrators, the centrifugal pump and pulp belt elevator, located 14 feet below discharge of mill. All the machinery is new and of the most modern build and make.

The mill has been constructed under the charge and supervision of B. S. Garbarini of Jackson, Cal., a man of wide, practical experience as a millwright. He will remain until the mill is in full operation.

Charles Taylor is the manager of the tungsten mines and employs at the present time over 30 men. The principal development so far has been on the Pappoose claim, but De Golia and Atkins, the principal owners, have a great number of adjoining claims.

The question is not one of re-analysis, but one of fact;
whether the churches can do to be hands off. The separation of church and state is a fundamental of American democracy, even carried out; and the man our lawmakers to take his istian religions, have exactly y rights in a free country as he rticular individuals who accept didity; they are utterly impertin-nd out of place in discussing a rtunately for the partisans of ble marriage, they have be-o accustomed to lean on the reed of appeal to ecclesiastical that when they are bluntly why they assume to stigmatize as an evil, they are somewhat s for a reply. The error in their comes from a priori reasoning, in confounding cause with effect.

eared in the belief that marriage ine institution, they are incapable ing it like other human devices.
imply see that many marriages ug dissolved, and assume wicked-its, will simply make matters a thousandfold worse. Let our conventional moralists simply take once glance at the facts. In South Carolina no divorces are allowed for any cause; and the result is such widespread concubi-nage that a law has actually been found necessary to limit the percentage of his property which a married man shall be permitted to bequeath to his mistress.

Is wholesale adultery so much more "moral" than divorce? Take the other states one by one. Is New York, with her one statutory ground for absolute divorce, so much more virtuous in the general tone of her people than Massachusetts, where several grounds are recognized?

Marriage is simply a partnership between two people, made effective for good by mutual love and community of purpose. Where these elements are lacking, it means the most intense misery, and saps all ambition or effort.
It means an evil prenatal influence for the unborn offspring, and a monstrous example of domestic hatred for the growing child. Can there be any possibility be any virtue in the continuance of such an arrangement? Every other partnership is dissolvable at the will of the parties, when it fails to meet the desired ends; why the exception in this case? "Oh," it is said, "this is not like any other contract, because here the state is a third party; and this continually parroted answer is supposed to settle the whole matter. But what is the remark, but a mere begging of the question? What is the state and what is its interest? The state is only the people taken collectively; and individual discord and wretchedness can surely not be expected to promote collective harmony and well being. "Public policy," if the term has any signification, means that society is concerned to see to it that such conditions prevail as will tend to develop a highly enlightened, honorable, public-spirited and peaceful community. The marriage system, like the tariff and the monetary system, is only incidental. If it serves its purpose, well and good; if not, society has no further use for it. If the common good requires substantial modifications in an institution which was perfectly satisfactory to earlier generations, such modifications should be made.
A given institution may have been absolutely necessary at the period of its origin, and in the course of social development have been so completely outgrown as to have become a positive and deadly curse to the nation which persisted in entertaining it a century or two after its usefulness had expired.
Witness chattel slavery, which was an absolute historic necessity ten thousand or more years ago. It may not be necessary to infer that monogamic marriage, because it demonstrably originated in certain very material facts in a crude social state, and has in no way a more sacred beginning or justification than war or money, is destined to disappear with advancing civilization.
There are able and high-minded thinkers to whom such a conclusion seems probable; but their conclusions are based mainly on different lines of reasoning. The question is simply one of fact. So long as the existing marriage

PLACER MINING PROJECT PLANNED NEAR KRAMER

PM
3-7-07
LS

Constable J. R. Redd brought up from Mojave last Thursday morning a bundle of 29 mining locations, which he filed with the county recorder and which may be the beginning of a placer mining enterprise of great magnitude, says the Bakersfield Morning Echo.

The claims placed on record are in sections 6, 7, 8, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 29, township 10, range 7; and sections 1, 13, 24 and 12, township 10, range 8, San Bernardino base and meridian. The land is in the southeast corner of the county, near Kramer and lies on both sides of the Santa Fe railroad.

Mr. Redd stated that about 1600 acres of land in all had been located in this vicinity. And it is the expectation of the locators to interest capital in a proposition to put in a dredger and mine on a very extensive scale. W.
R. Johnson and others have been in negotiation with different parties and it is believed that some of them will take hold of the proposition. About four miles south of the land in question there are some artesian wells from which water might be secured for the use of the dredger. It would be necessary to pump the water 300 or 400 feet as well as to carry it from the wells to the land, but it appears that this is not considered an insurmountable difficulty by the capitalists who have so far investigated it. Mr. Redd says that the experts who have figured on the proposition claim that the gravel can be profitably worked if it yields only a few cents to the cubic yard.

The men whose names appear on the locations filed so far are as follows:

- E. Stearns, W. Bryant, L. Cain, J.
H. Wilson, C. G. McFarlan, W. F.
Jones, W. E. Davis, B. Hall, H. W.
Parker, M. G. Reddy, F. Dalby, W.
Hayes, J. M. Babson, S. Stearns, F.
Dalby, J. Waage, J. L. Thrash, J. Isch-inger, C. Tragard, F. E. Fancher, J.
Stradal, J. W. Brick.

If this project proves successful it will be a very important matter for the southern part of the county, for it is stated on good authority that there are many thousands of acres of gravel land which carries large values in gold. It will be remembered that in the Echo's
New Year edition, W. R. Hill gave a very graphic and interesting account of a prehistoric river which flowed from the rich mineral belts of Nevada westward to the Pacific ocean. This river crossed a country that has since been lifted into mountain ranges or depressed into valleys, but its course is still followed by the gravel and sand which it carried down from the Nevada mineral fields and which is very rich in gold.

Mr. Hill made the prediction that some day this ancient river will be the scene of the greatest placer mining operations ever carried on in this country. The lands located by the Mojave people are not along the course of this prehistoric river as Mr. Hill describes it, but if the present project is carried out successfully it may be the forerunner of the great industry which Mr.
Hill predicted.

LOCAL NOTES

Mr. Deacon returned Tuesday evening from a short visit to Bakersfield.

Roy Houser returned from Skidoo a few days ago and has been laid up with a bad cold since.

The new mill at Tungsten is running and concentrating ore. Everything works well and smoothly.

Stephen G. Constantine, August Nouchey and L. Lexert have gone to Skidoo to try the new camp.

R. E. Townsley came up from Los Angeles Monday evening and will run the mechanical department of the Miner.

Mr. Lay, of the Copper Basin property and his niece from New York City came up from Los Angeles last week and are stopping at the Houser hotel.

Quite a number of our citizens are attending court at Bakersfield this week as jurymen. Among them are A. C. Burcham, Patrick Byrne and Ed Shipsey.

Dom Barteno has struck good tungsten ore in the Stringer district near the Pearl Wedge mine, and feels pretty good over it, especially since they are able to concentrate tungsten into shipping values.

Pat Byrne came home from Bakersfield Tuesday evening. He reports that it took four days to secure a jury in the Williams case. This is the third trial of this case and it was hard to secure a jury. C. A. Burcham and Pat were both excused but Shipsey was held as one of the jurors.

Len Cunningham, J. S. Hart, Ben Hoch and Anton Prolo have a contract from the Consolidated Mines Company to extend their long tunnel for development purposes another hundred feet. The tunnel is already into Bend mountain over 800 feet. They will get another 300 feet if they succeed with this.

Old-papers for sale at this office.

Dick Callahan and Bud Murphy former Randsburgers are in town this week.

Al Gaucher who was formerly a blacksmith at Johannesburg has struck it rich at Harrisburg in the Panamint mountains not far from Skidoo. He recently made a trip to San Francisco and while there made one sale for $85,000 and has another deal on. He arrived at Johannesburg a few days ago in a brand new automobile which he had purchased at Stockton and drove through. He only stayed a day or two and left for his mines.

CONCENTRATE TUNGSTEN ORE

Charles Wetherbee and W. W. Wickard have been experimenting on concentrating tungsten ore at the Phoenix mill at Johannesburg with entire success. They have used the Woodbury Concentrator and find that they can take low grade tungsten ore and concentrate it into values running as high as sixty per cent; values that pay well for shipment. This will be of immense benefit to many holders of tungsten claims that do not produce ore rich enough to ship without concentrating, as is the case with the Papoose.

A WARNING

The newspapers have a habit of overdoing nearly everything they attempt. They are overdoing their attacks on railroads. The Globe doesn't receive a single railroad pass, and it hasn't a single railroad contract for advertising. It receives not a dollar from any source from a railroad company, yet it realizes that railroads are necessary to the development and prosperity of the country. While the railroads should be operated in a spirit of fairness and liberality, they can be hounded to a point where the country will suffer. That point has been nearly reached now and Charles Cushman, one of the owners of the mine, told its story recently. He said:

"We found the lost Bethune mine about two years ago, but it had been worked for hundred of years before we found it, and I, myself, have never been in the end of its old workings."

Colonel Bethune came into this country some years ago looking for the big gold mine and came out with some small samples. He returned and loaded his burros with ore and sold it in Reno. He came back with prosperity the major portion of his next camping outfit was whiskey and a year later some prospectors found a monument on the side of Funeral range and beside it was the body of a man—Colonel Bethune—with a note in the monument telling of wandering burros and exhausted water supply.

There was a search made for his property, but it was not found until two years ago.

By the workings are old arrow heads, stone cooking pots, the remains of buildings that no modern Indian could or no Mormon would build. It is a strange story and we have taken the three sides of a building from which the front and roof have long disappeared and turned it into a bunk house.

Answers "Shorty" Harris

The News is in receipt of the following letter which explains itself and was probably prompted by an article which appeared recently in a prominent Nevada newspaper under the title of "Two Bold Bad Men from Ballarat."

100 Tons Per Day

The Union Lime Company has contracted with Jones & Kerr for hauling the lime rock from Antelope Canyon to the lime Company's kilns a quarter of a mile east of Tehachapi. The contractors will use their "Baby" traction engine for the motive power and will use quartz wagons of twenty tons capacity each. Two of these wagons have been finished and several experimental trips have demonstrated that the rock can be successfully handled this way. The outfit made two trips last Wednesday, hauling a total of seventy five tons for the day. The hauling is only limited by the number of wagons the engine can pull up the hill to the quarry. The distance is a little over three miles with a raise of about 1400 feet. Mr. Kerr says they expect to make three trips per day very easily, and that the delivery with the present outfit will average more than one hundred tons per day. Tomahawk.

After three months of waiting, Skidoo's postoffice is finally recognized as Skidoo and Hoveek is no longer its official name. On Monday, April 1st, Postmaster Davis was instructed to have the assistants again sworn in and that the official name of the office is Skidoo. The necessary cancellation stamps and paraphernalia have been received for the change of name and the first mail coming in over the Rhyolite route on Tuesday was the first time that mail has been stamped with the marker "Skidoo."—Skidoo News.

Shipment of Tungsten Ore

Tomorrow Chas. Wetherbee ships four tons of tungsten ore. This ore comes from several parties. Some of it is from the Winnie mine owned by Charlie Koehn and is in a pure state, just as it came from the mine. Some of it comes from the Gold Stone mine owned by Wetherbee located just west of the Papoose and the balance from Wickard mine. Some of this ore has been concentrated and is of a high degree of purity. The shipment goes to Philadelphia and is paid for at the rate of $8.00 per unit F. O. B. Johannesburg. John T. Davis, bookkeeper at the Yellow Aster mines, left last evening for the Arrowhead Hot Springs on account of his health. Mr. Davis is a sufferer from that dread disease, lung trouble, and while this clear, invigorating desert air is exceptionally beneficial in all such cases, it was thought best to have him try a lower altitude. It is to be hoped he will soon be able to work again. He was accompanied by Mrs. Davis.

C. G. Illingsworth, one of our enterprising merchants, has just installed in his place of business a new cash register that surpasses anything of the kind we have ever seen. It is complicated, and yet simple when understood. It almost entirely does away with book-keeping, and of course is entirely accurate. Its cost, $700, is something startling, but there is no doubt it is worth the money in accuracy and convenience to a man doing a good business.

The Automobile Club of Southern California is marking all the main roads in the south with costly blue and white porcelain emblematic road signs, which like the block system signals on railroads, show to automobile drivers the way to turn and bad spots on the road, though an auto may be going at 40 miles an hour. These signals are placed beside the road 200 yards before coming to a turn or dangerous place, and at right angles to the road, and the emblems show what is ahead so that the wording can be seen by slow driving.

Mine Sold.

Charlie Koehn has sold the Winnie mine to Vald Schmidt and J. W. Barter, from Los Angeles. It is now considered more valuable for tungston than gold. Charlie has taken out $1,350 worth of tungston in the past two months, and a leaser took out $200 in two weeks. The payments are $3,000 cash and the balance in payments.

Charlie says the sale, although a good one, will not swell his head and he still expects to retain his official position of mayor of Kane Springs, as the new railroad will run through his back yard.

Railroads Cruel to Cattle.

United States District Attorney Lawler this week filed complaints in the circuit court charging the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Salt Lake railroads with violations of the federal statute providing that cattle transported in cars which are not supplied with feeding and watering troughs must be unloaded and permitted to rest at least five hours after being confined twenty-eight.

It is alleged that in each instance cited in the complaints cattle were kept cooped up in such cars for thirty-five hours or longer without food or drink. The fine established by law in such cases is $500 for each offence. Last month the Southern Pacific was convicted under this statute in Nevada and compelled to pay $500 fine.

In brief the complaints make the following allegations:

That the Southern Pacific confined 185 head of cattle for forty-two hours, in transit from Tempe, Ariz., to Los Angeles.

That the Salt Lake confined 142 head of cattle for forty-one hours and thirty minutes, in transit from Logan, Utah, to Los Angeles; second count, 142 head, thirty hours and twenty minutes, between same points; third count, fifty-six head, forty-six hours, between Lewiston, Utah, and Los Angeles.

A Letter to the Miner.

Editor of the Miner:
Before the muck rakers start for Atolia I wish to set at rest what promises to grow into another mystery of the great desert if not nipped in time.

It is true as reported, that Mr. Chas. Wetherbee and myself shipped a car load of tungsten ore to Colorado last week to be milled, but neither of us have any designs against the cherished institutions of our country.

Because there is a mill here that could do what we have sent over a thousand miles away to have done, the belief is gaining ground that the sending of that car is nothing less than another sinister move in the game for a third term, all of which I here and now brand as a deliberate and unqualified falsehood.

The home plant should certainly have the first call, and I was always ready to do business with them, but, incredible as it may seem, I just can't get it out of my wool but what our friends are trying to build up a monopoly in our midst.

I never ran to them to have my ore milled; never at any time have I asked them to do it. They do the running. Time and again did they come to me to secure the handling of my output, which I agreed to give them, and they promised over and over that they would install the ore testing and sampling adjuncts to their mill that custom work calls for, and this was to have been done over three months ago, but they have yet to make the first move towards putting in that equipment. Why they didn't is of course plain enough. It doesn't take the seventh son of a seventh wife to smoke the coon out of that wood pile.

But greed makes us all dull or they would have seen that it was impossible for monopoly to get control of this tungsten camp against the will of the independent claim owners. There is no freezing out if the right men are behind the guns, and if I have been always supremely indifferent whether my ore was treated here or not, there have been mighty good reasons for this display of the spirit of old '76 and the Declaration. Among them are these two smashing facts which our embryo monopoly should study. The first is that milling charges are much less in Denver than here, and the other is that market pays from $100 to $240 more per ton for the same grade of concentrates. Nor does it take a high grade of ore to make the trip. Rock that is too poor to ship is too poor to mill in this camp, for it should be known that the Papoose people gave us poor devils to understand that they wouldn't do our milling anyway unless we agreed to sell them our concentrates, and at their price.

Sure, greed makes us dull. But it is true now as always that to cook your rabbit you must first catch him.

May, Christ save me!" shrieked Christiana Hanson as she was being taken to a cell for insane in the Los Angeles jail Monday. Another woman in the same city only last week backed off her hand in an hour of religious lunacy, wrapped the bleeding stub in her apron and fled to the altar of her church to jangle her supplications with her bloody sacrifice. A religious fanatic was only last week apprehended in the act of train wrecking. Almost every week the daily papers herald similar news of demented persons carrying into effect the crazy idiosyncrasy of some religious mania. Yet the world of so-called "sane" people lightly pass up these peculiar workings of the human mind with the slight remark of "only crazy." But there is a deeper meaning for the sober thinker to grasp. He can see beneath the surface of disordered brain cells, or depleted or insufficient functions of the material man, the immortal spirit struggling for a clearer glimpse of the Divine unfoldment, and a profound pity goes out for the human race in its struggle for the precious moments of spiritual illumination. All religious adherents, in a measure, are insane, but finite mind cannot tell just exactly where to draw the dividing line; hence the fact escapes public apprehension until the malady assumes the violent form of some absurd demonstration, then it is branded "insanity." We do not speak in disparagement of our churches or religious institutions of any kind, understand, for they are useful in a measure; but a broad comprehension of stubborn facts will inevitably convince the thinker that all man made institutions have been constantly changing their forms, ceremonies, creeds and opinions to conform to the irresistible march of progressive enlightenment. The very fact of "changes" is evidence of false premises to start with; the fact of existing present differences in denominations is evidence of room for improvement somewhere along the line; the crowning evidence that some or all of them are wide of the mark of perfection is the apostolic admonition for "all" Christians to "be of the same mind and of the same judgment." The goal for mankind then should be a constant striving for truth, with a continuous pruning, or chopping off of all preconceived ideas when found detrimental thereto. The acts of one person, one church, one organization, or one anything, denouncing the beliefs or opinions of those who differ, is evidence of mental unsoundness. When persisted in to the point of trying to bend all known facts of science and reason to conform to some erroneous dogma, it develops into insanity, in proportion to the degree of zeal manifested. The more ignorant or superstitious the subject, the more pronounced the mania, or fanaticism. Such it was that threw that vast army of crusaders into the religious frenzy of the "Holy Wars," such it was that burned and tortured the advance guards of the intellectual awakening that delivered the race from ### • Mining Notes.

The mining news of Randsburg vicinity is about the same as usual—a constant producing and milling, which long ago has passed the experimental stage and settled down to the bed rock which has made this the substantial mining camp it is.

• This week Wilhite & Jelfard had a milling of $1500 worth of tungsten ore from the Santa Ana mine in the Stringer district.

• Barney Ostick has just had a milling from the Merced mine of $800 worth of tungsten.

• McCormick & O'Leary have also had a recent milling from the G. B. mine, but the exact amount we did not learn.

• Chas. Weatherbee is taking out a considerable quantity of tungsten every day.

Considerable development is also being done over in the tungsten field, and rich strikes may be expected at any time

• C. G. Illingworth has a force of men at work in his mines there, from which he recently took out about $2000 worth of the ore. He now has a shaft down about 80 feet, with favorable indications.

• Wm. Greenwood, H. S. Roberts and others are making extensive developments in the tungsten line.

• The Atolia Mining Co. are constantly enlarging their force, and the general mining outlook for that section is very bright.

May Boycott The Americans.

Tokio, July 1.—The impression is growing here that the anti-Japanese feeling and demonstrations in San Francisco are the outcome of a deeply laid plan based upon racial hatred and the recent developments apparently support this impression. The news papers here which have special correspondents of American nationality in San Francisco have ceased to receive news from them. No explanation was offered for the discontinuance of news dispatches, but the impression here is that pressure was brought to bear upon the correspondents in San Francisco not to serve the Japanese papers.

The fear is expressed that the danger point will soon be reached. Although war is not dreamed of, the mutual feelings of good will and friendship will be seriously alienated if prompt measures are not taken allay the general indignation here against the latest discrimination in San Francisco, which, according to Japanese contention, is a flagrant violation of treaty rights.

Apparently certain measures of retaliation are seriously being contemplated. Just what action will be taken has not yet developed, but a boycott against American goods is believed will be one of the steps taken.

Taking Up Land Near Silver Lake.

Many homesteads are being taken up by settlers in the vicinity of Silver Lake, on the Tonopah and Tidewater railroad, and it is probable that next year will see quite a colony of ranchers established south of that point.

In winter Silver Lake fills up with water and floods thousands of acres of as fine land as can be found in California, and it is proposed to unwater the lake by digging a canal 1500 feet long and 30 feet at its greatest depth and running off the flood into thirsty old Death Valley.

South of the lake stretches a good expanse of very fertile soil, the productiveness of which has already been demonstrated. A few feet below the surface water in any quantity can be developed.

Washington, June 29.—“After investigating every charge which has been brought to my attention, whether apparently well founded or not, I have been unable to find a single penny of graft going to any one in connection with the isthmian canal work.”

This statement was made by Secretary Taft today when his attention was called to the statements that special accountants had been sent to the isthmus to examine the books of the disbursing officers of the commission. He

Down in Los Angeles the other day a lot of white men landed on a Jap for contemptuously spitting on Uncle Sam's flag, and would have mauled him into Japanese fragments had not the brown man been a good wrestler and a fast runner, which enabled him to make a getaway before much fur began to fly. The Jap was employed at the Southern Pacific round house. As he was wiping an engine another workman came by and made some reference to the flag which was gently waving in the breeze near him. With an expression of contempt on his face the Japanese turned and deliberately spat on the little flag. With an exclamation of rage the other workman landed on the Jap. Other workmen quickly rushed up and it was a wild crowd that surrounded the Jap. Thrown and knocked first this way and that, he fought with a strength born of desperation. He turned and twisted until he finally broke through the crowd and dodging between outbuildings and cars made his way out of the railroad yards.

Criminal Negligence.

From the American Mining Review.
For the first time in many years a California coroner's jury on July 4th, rendered a verdict of criminal negligence on part of a mining company, making it responsible for the death of a miner killed by a cave. The accident happened in the Bartlett mine of the Wheeler Mining Company, near the village of Daggett, in San Bernardino county.

The mine is opened by means of a flat ization. The present high prices of labor is causing the gradual tying up of millions of dollars of proposed building in San Francisco, the leading representatives of the Builders' Exchange, Builders' Association, Builders' Trades council and the Real Estate board, held their second meeting yesterday to come to an agreement regarding an equitable scale of wages for the next three years.

The outcome of the conference, which lasted all afternoon, was the acceptance of a scale based upon present conditions, involving cuts in wages for every line of labor engaged in the construction of buildings. This scale will be submitted to the affiliated unions of the Building Trades council for their approval and a final conference is set for Friday, July 26.

While discussing the conditions as they are at present, it was shown that rents and the cost of living are on the decline, and that the high wages asked by the members of the building unions would be unfair, in view of the decreasing cost of living. It was also pointed out that building supplies are also undergoing a reduction in price with other materials.

Thirty-four thousand men will face a lockout if some solution of the difficulty is not reached.

Found Dead at Sloan's Camp.

Crackerjack News: Death came in pathetic form some time Friday to W. W. Curtis, watchman and caretaker at Sloan's camp, about four miles west of the Daggett-Borax works. Indications pointed strongly to murder, but a careful investigation by Coroner Van Wie cleared up the circumstances to such an extent that the jury hearing the testimony, was satisfied that death was due to appoplexy, or other natural causes of a similar nature.

The man's money was found undisturbed beneath a mattress, his private papers, among them valuable mining stock, were safe in his pocket.

The deceased was over 80 years old, and had been in the camp about a month.

Needles Eye: The long continued flood water season of the Colorado river this year is worrying the farmer who is in the habit of using the overflow grounds after the flood waters have receded for the purpose of raising crops. The high stage of water continuing so late in the season that there is not the necessary time for ripening the crops.

In a write-up of the mining industry of California, the Mining Review contained the following paragraph: "In Kern county, where is located the well known Yellow Aster mine, considerable interest was shown by the continuation of increasingly large shipments of scheelite ore and concentrates from Tungsten station near Randsburg. Some eight or ten companies and leasers are steadily producing."

Mining and Scientific Press: The chief use of tungsten is in the manufacture of tungsten steel, and this again is mostly used for high speed tools, magnet steels, and in European countries also for armor plates and projectiles. The percentage of tungsten in tool steels varies greatly, according to the special uses for which they are intended, but tungsten always imparts to the steel the property of self-hardening in the air after forging without necessitating any of the usual methods of tempering.

Dr. Kennard, the Society of Friends' agent in the Russian famine area, writes as follows from Samara in reference to the famine there: "The winter snows have vanished; the green grass shows its welcome color to 150,000,000 people who for seven long winter months have gazed on a monotonous white pall; the sun reveals with its brilliant light one of the saddest pictures that man can witness—millions craving for bread, millions exhausted by seven months of hunger, relying for aid on what their government seems incapable of giving them, and forced to be content to exist on the charity of the Russian zemstvos and other organizations. ### Guarding Their Claims With Guns.

Men with guns are guarding their claims in the new gold district twelve miles south of Greenwater, according to the Greenwater Miner, and prospectors who have covered every foot of the desert are positive in their assertions that the old and now famous Breyfogle mine has been found. On the north slope of the highest of three hills on the crest of the Funeral range lies the ledge of white quartz and of conglomerate porphyry that carry the most phenomenal gold values which have ever been found in any part of this section, and possibly in any part of the whole desert.
The white quartz glistens with gold,
and in the dark mass of conglomerate
the small, bright particles of yellow gold show like a dream of wealth.

Because the gold is so very apparent, and because the ledges are so large and numerous, prospectors returning from the diggins say that the mountain is made of gold. So it appears to them, and so it appears to the best experts of gold rock that have as yet looked over the new strike.

The ground was located in this new district in May, by Joe Witherel, who first found the rich rock in a ledge of white quartz. A stampede, the like of which Greenwater has not witnessed since its first days, is now on to the new fields of wealth and every man and jack that can walk is wending its way over the twelve mile trail to the new bonanza.

Japanese Spy Caught While Drawing Plans.

San Diego, July 11.—Considerable excitement was occasioned here by the news which leaked out this morning that a Japanese spy had been arrested at Fort Rosecrans in the act of making drawings of the fort.

San Diego, July 13.—It is learned from a trusty source that in addition to the Japanese detected in making sketches at Fort Rosecrans a few days ago, another was expelled from the Fort yesterday for having a blue print in his possession. This latter Japanese was employed as a servant at the fort.
He is a man of superior attainments.
In his room was found a standard work on engineering. The blue print was well drawn and showed much technical skill, but was not quite completed.

New Scale of Wages for Frisco.

San Francisco, July 13.—With the re-labor is causing the gradual tying up of millions of dollars of proposed building in San Francisco, the leading representatives of the Builders' Exchange, Builders' Association, Builders' Trades council and the Real Estate board, held their second meeting yesterday to come to an agreement regarding an equitable scale of wages for the next three years.

The outcome of the conference, which lasted all afternoon, was the acceptance of a scale based upon present conditions, involving cuts in wages for every line of labor engaged in the construction of buildings. This scale will be sub-

Get Two Million From Old Dump

Crackerjack News: The parties who recently purchased the big low grade dump at the Cerro Gordo mine 22 miles southeast of Keeler, expect to realize $2,000,000 from the ore. The mine has been worked off and on since the early 60's and some of the richest silver lead ore ever mined in this country, taken from it. It also carried a high percentage of zinc, which caused the smelters to charge a high price for treating the ore, so that it did not pay to ship anything that went under $100 a ton. Recently lead-zinc-silver ore has been in great demand, the difficulty in treating the zinc having been overcome. The mine has been worked under lease during the last few years by John Gunn and the ore has been shipped by way of Keeler.

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1907

Needles is to have a new bank, articles of incorporation of which were filed with the county clerk a few days ago. The authorized capital is $25,000.

The bank at Skidoo has been resurrected and is now doing business again at the same old stand. They held a town meeting in Skidoo when the gentlemen from Los Angeles arrived to look over the situation, mention of which is made elsewhere in this paper, and the miners all expressed a desire to have the bank continue.

The oldest mine known, is a question difficult to answer. There are very ancient mines in Central Africa, in Egypt, in India, in China and Japan, and in Arabia, but the relative age of the oldest of these is unknown. The Rio Tinto mine, in Spain, has been worked at intervals for over 2000 years and is still one of the world's greatest producers of copper. — American Mining Review.

The school census rolls of the fifty-five counties of the State which have just been totaled, show that there are in California 435,405 children between the ages of 5 and 17, and 245,450 families. By using 3.9 as a multiplier the total population of the State is estimated to be close to 1,700,000. According to this year's census there is a slight predominance of boys. Of the 435,405 census children, 426,125 are whites; 2,910 negroes, 3,326 Indians and 3,044 native born Mongolians.

The railroads running out of Cripple Creek, Colorado, have recently put into effect a new freight tariff, lowering the charges on low-grade ore. There is a large amount of low-grade ore in Cripple Creek district, which at present either lies on the mine dumps or is left in the mines because, under existing conditions, there is no profit in mining and shipping it. The change in railroad rates was made in order that this low-grade material might be sent to the loaning of money seemed like a fascination. McNew is said to have loaned $10,000 to a mining company in which he was interested.

Then came a jolt. He had borrowed $2,000 in Los Angeles. This was apparently the only capital stock in the Skidoo bank.

There came to him a peremptory order to show up in Los Angeles and explain. He came, showed he and his bank were "busted," and placed the concern's assets and his own resignation in the hands of creditors.

Geo. F. Doty, cashier of the Bank of Los Angeles, went up to Skidoo. He went to see what was left of the wreck. According to his advice the Los Angeles men will be justified in taking up the affairs of the Skidoo bank and either continuing business or paying off the creditors.

Second Shipment to Leave the Crackerjack Bonanza.

The second shipment of ore will leave the Crackerjack Bonanza mine some time this week, teams having been secured to make the haul to the railroad at Silver Lake. It is reported that two carloads of rich sulphide will be included in this shipment, and that the ore will go to the smelter at Salt Lake, the Needles smelter being taxed to its full extent to handle the ore which is now in the bins. Samples from this shipment of Bonanza ore is said to give an average of $250 a ton.

Several new buildings have been completed at the Bonanza, and a pump has been received for the well. The flow of water has increased considerably, and is of an excellent quality. Twenty-five men are now employed by the company at different points.

The Fumigation of Schmitz.

San Francisco, July 20.—With his cell door marked "in danger of infection," ex-Mayor Schmitz was lined up with 35 other prisoners in the county jail this morning and compelled to submit to a medical examination for smallpox symptoms, while other attendants of the board of health scattered odoriferous formaldehyde and penetrating iodiform about the furniture of his luxurious prison cell.

When the danger of infection was clearly presented to Schmitz, he no longer objected to the work of the doctors.

Skidoo Bank In Trouble.

Capitalists in Los Angeles have gone to the aid of the Southern California bank at Skidoo in the Panamint mountains. The bank, which has been out of business for several days, will be continued with the transfusion of new blood and the mistakes of the proprietors will be corrected.

H. L. McNew, claiming Los Angeles as his home, started the bank at Skidoo. He crossed Death Valley with the bank's capital stock in his valise April 2, and opened the bank in the Thompson general merchandise store the next day.

It was stated at the time that McNew carried $25,000 in his grip that day, but this seemed to be an exaggeration. Anyway, McNew boasted at the close of the first day that he had made thirteen loans.

Now, in a place like Skidoo, securities are not always tangible and substantial. But McNew took them. The ### Officials Ousted at Louisville, Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., has reached the culmination of a revolution which in extent and effect has only been paralleled by one or two other cities of the first class in the history of the United States.

The upheaval is the result of the recent decision of the Kentucky court of appeals overturning the municipal election of 1905. On the face of the returns as counted on election day, the democratic ticket for the city and county officers had been declared elected, but a contest in the courts was instituted by representatives of the fusion ticket, the only one in the field against the democrats.

The court of appeals in the final hearing of the case decided that "gross frauds" in the matter of repeating, illegal voting, intimidation of voters and falsification of the count had prevailed to such an extent as to render the election invalid.

Under the terms of the court's mandate it became incumbent on Governor Beckham to appoint councilmen and aldermen and a mayor for the city of Louisville and county judge for Jefferson county. The mayor and county judge were, under the law, empowered to fill all the remaining offices made vacant by the decision.

Putting In a Pump.

Crackerjack News: A new pump has been received to be installed at the Taylor springs, which were recently purchased by Crackerjack parties. The water has been developed by tunneling, and a large flow is now reported to be available. A large tank will be built close to the spring, in order to facilitate the loading of the water wagon. It is understood that the price of water in Crackerjack will soon be reduced to 5 cents a gallon.

New California Gem Mineral Discovered.

For many years California has enjoyed an enviable reputation as a land of beautiful minerals. She has now added another jewel to her crown. A gem of great beauty was recently discovered in the southern part of the Coast Range near the San Benito and Fresno County line, by two prospectors. The stone was offered to Shreve & Company in San Francisco, as a specimen for laboratory examination; however, it was found that the mineral did not possess the usual qualities of sapphires, and it was therefore referred to the geological department at the University of California. Conclusions based on a scientific examination appear in a paper published by Prof. Geo. D. Soper. The new gem is one of great beauty, it is a clear, transparent one of an attractive blue color, that the deeper color portions show a slight iridescence. Compared with the best known standard blue gem, the sapphire, it may be said that it rivals the latter in color and exceeds it in brilliancy, though it is not so hard. It is, however, harder than the opal and the common stone and about equal to chrysoberyl. The color, which is its most attractive property, appears to be quite stable. The stone may be heated to a bright red and maintained at that temperature for five minutes, but on cooling down the color will appear absolutely unaffected. The mineral does not suffer by contact with any of the ordinary acids, and will remain unharmed after being washed with the cleansing agencies likely to be used on precious stones.

It is a fact worthy of note that while other gem minerals for which this country is famous, are all varieties of the same sometimes more beautiful varieties of minerals known elsewhere, this stone has the distinction of being an entirely new mineral, demanding therefore a new name. It has been christened Benitoite by virtue of the fact that it was discovered in San Benito county, near the headwaters of the San Benito creek.

Another new mineral has been dis-

No Saloons Along Owens River Aqueduct.

Los Angeles Herald: The city council went on record Monday opposing the establishment of any saloons within at least four miles of any camps along the proposed aqueduct route between Los Angeles and the head of Owens river valley.

City Attorney L. R. Hewitt told the council that he had been informed that efforts were being made in Los Angeles, Kern and Inyo counties to introduce liquor privileges along the route in anticipation of the trade to come when thousands of men would be at work on the aqueduct. He suggested that the council pass a resolution asking the boards of supervisors along the route to assist in preventing the introduction of such an evil.

New Teams for Borax Mines.

A large number of new borax teaming outfits are being placed in service, says the Bakersfield Echo. The Frazier borax mines has let a contract to A. J. Cote to put in commission 150 horses and he has already begun the delivering of the new wagons and teams. A big camp has been established at the County Well, near Rose Station, where the main camp of the outfit will be placed.

It is Cote's intention to haul with six and eight horse teams and he plans to be able to haul a ton to the horse. The delivery of the borax will be made at the Wible switch.

The use of horses exclusively for borax teaming is not altogether new, but Cote's contract is the largest single contract yet placed for hauling borax from the mine to the railroad. Many doubt the feasibility of using horses successfully, and especially in six and eight horse teams. If his plans carry out alright at least eighteen or twenty new teams will be put into the borax traffic and over a score of men will be required to look after the teams, thus greatly enhancing the trade of Kern county.

To inaugurate the first social function given at Atolia, Mr. and Mrs. William Bouchard entertained with a very charming musicale on Wednesday evening at their residence on Grand Ave., in honor of Miss Lois Price, of Bakersfield. The vivacious hostess, Mrs. Bouchard, was assisted in receiving her numerous guests by Mrs. C. Nebeker and Mrs. W. Atkinson.

Among those bidden welcome to the evening's amusement were Mrs. Thos. McCarthy, Mrs. C. Taylor, Mrs. R. McEwin, Mr. C. Nebeker, Mr. W. Bouchard, Mr. W. Atkinson and Mr. P. Jensen.

A bevy of pretty debutantes and young girls enlivened the time very much by their graceful appearance and winsome ways. Miss Price certainly is honored in having as her friends and companions the Misses Theresa, Sarah, Marie and Clara McCarthy, Ada, Albertina and Gertrude Schoonmaker, Crescent Nebeker, Beatrice Atkinson, Minnie and Winfried Stanbury, Lena Giawanda and Helen Moore.

The Messieurs Leo and William McCarthy, John, Edward and William Bartino and Morris Atkinson contributed not a little by their singing and acting a piece from "The Merchant of Venice."

Sandwiches, cake and ice cream were served to the guests on the spacious lawns beneath heaven's starry dome, and all enjoyed the occasion immensely.

Many were the well-wishes for Miss Lois at the hour of parting, and a hearty welcome was assured her should she again visit our town in the future.

New Primary Law Upheld.

The Supreme Court of the State has done what it was expected to do in deciding the validity of the recently enacted law governing primary elections.

The different parties held their primaries on different days until recently, each party applied a test to voters presenting themselves at the polls. The question generally asked referred to the past and required a voter to declare what ticket he had supported in the last general election. The test was closely applied and left the polls wide open to repeaters who might vote for delegates to the conventions of both parties. The political machine took its own way. Those who belonged to the "organization" were banded together without reference to parties, but for the purpose of controlling the nominations of both parties.

The purpose of the new law is to prevent this. Each voter is required to declare at the polls at a primary convention which party he acts with. If he declares himself a Republican, he is recorded as such and is then forbidden to slip over to the opposite party.

The law was attacked by that class of voters whose motto is "Vote early and often." The attack was brought directly by the labor unionites of San Francisco. Their contention was that the new primary law violated the secrecy of the ballot. The Supreme court held that a legal test imposed upon voters at primary elections as to party allegiance under this primary election law no more violates the secrecy of the ballot than does the old party test. The Chief Justice outlined clearly the beneficial effect this law is likely to have in preventing double-dealing on the part of corrupt voters in taking part at the primary elections of both parties. Of course the effect of the law cannot be held to be that under which when a voter has declared him-

Searchlight Paper Shows Up McCord.

Crackerjack News: H. H. McCord, the Los Angeles faker, whose specialty is Searchlight real estate, and who has mulcted the citizens of the southern metropolis of thousands of dollars by his dishonest schemes, has apparently arrived at the end of his rope. The fakir is being thoroughly shown up by the Searchlight News, which evidently is the only paper which had sufficient courage to warn the prospective suckers. The news said in a recent issue:

"Word was received here this week that Mrs. Anna Mallory, who threatened suit against the H. H. McCord company on the charge of getting money under false pretenses and through gross misrepresentation, has settled the matter out of court. To avoid the publicity of court proceedings, the McCord company was eager to adjust the difficulty, and Mrs. Mallory says they refunded her $900, which was the amount she paid in part payment on several lots on the hillside of Doherty mountain. This ground is so covered with mammoth boulders that it is an impossibility to drive a saddle horse through the property.

"The fraud was so palpable that McCord was willing to disgorge if the facts were suppressed. This is only one of several cases where an investor demanded and received his money back or let the company face an action for fraud, which in every instance they feared to do."

Cars Running From Mojave to Owens River.

The trip from Los Angeles to the Bishop and Big Pine country has been cut from four days to one and a half by the newly instituted Owens river automobile line, which is now in full swing. Cars are running over the route from Mojave to Independence, Bishop and Big Pine three times a week and there will be daily service when the new desert specials arrive, which are now on the way, says the Los Angeles Examiner.

The motor cars meet the trains at Mojave. The Southern Pacific train leaves Los Angeles at 11:20 p. m. and arrives at the desert town in the early morning. At 5:30 the auto leaves for the 121-mile pull over the desert roads to Lone Pine. From there cars run to Independence, Big Pine and Bishop and specials are in readiness to take passengers to Skidoo and Darwin. From Mojave to Lone Pine is sandy with many rocky grades.

J. Garvey, one of the owners of the line, and E. G. Gilbert, president of the company, established a record of seven hours for the run. This record trip came about through a conversation at Lone Pine one night when a party of miners, stage drivers and others had gathered to talk over anything anybody would talk about. The stage makes the trip in thirty-six hours and naturally there was some talk on the time being made by the automobiles.

"You can't make the trip in ten hours," said one of the miners.

"I will bet money I can do it in seven," replied Garvey, and although no money was wagered he did it to show the doubters. The company has found the road bad in many places which has necessitated expenditure of considerable money in road building, and work is also under way on bridges over the Cottonwood and Shepherd creeks. Both are deep and it is necessary to rush them on every trip. This always results in drenching all the passengers.

There is some good road on the run, and across a dry lake bed Garvey has made as high as fifty-two miles an hour.

"We intend expending an improving this transportation line," said Garvey.

Labor Union Leaders Sued.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—O. A. Tvitmoe, P. H. McCarthy, Richard Cornelius and all other officers and members of the carmen's union, labor council and building council, have been made defendants in a suit filed by James S. Aver, a saloon keeper.

Aver alleged that because he did not compel one of his employes to refrain from riding on street cars, his saloon had been boycotted, and his business was thereby threatened with ruin. He asked the superior court to enjoin the labor organizations from further interfering with his business.

Owens River Camps May Obtain Saloons.

So far as the Los Angeles county supervisors are concerned, saloon licenses will be granted to applicants in those districts voted "wet" by the residents, regardless of the proximity of the saloons to the camps of those employed on the Owens river aqueduct.

Protests against the granting of licenses for saloons within four miles of any of the aqueduct camps, in resolutions adopted by both the city council and the board of public works and presented to the supervisors, have been overruled by the latter body.

"Such a law would be class legislation," said Chairman Patterson in explaining his attitude, "and would not be countenanced by the supreme court. We shall follow our usual custom of granting licenses in districts where the people have voted 'wet' and vice versa."—Los Angeles Herald.

The island of Laysan was inhabited by Max Schlemmer and his family and a number of Japanese laborers.

Business has been unusually good, one local government land company alone having contracted to send fifty passengers a month over the line. I am purchasing machinery now for our machine shops at Lane Pine, Mojave and Bishop. We will also build eating houses along the way.

Los Angeles Herald: The boilermakers have gone back to work. President Payne of the local union received a telegram from Superintendent of Motive Power H. J. Small Tuesday saying that all the men might go back to their old places under the same conditions of hours and wages as before the strike.

The night force of boilermakers and helpers went to work last night (Tuesday) and the day shift will start this morning (Wednesday). The engines are in bad condition as a result of the recent neglect, and additional men had to be employed in the local shop last night.

Perishes In Desert Cabin.

Bakersfield Echo: Coroner Van Wie returned from Murphy's wells Monday morning where he was called to hold an inquest upon the skeleton of a prospector supposed to be that of Charles Morris, 60 years of age, who perished alone in a cabin at the wells, 18 miles northwest of Barnwell.

The deceased was seen last about a month ago. A grocer's receipt found by the Coroner in his clothing showed that on July 5, last, he had purchased a small bill of goods from a merchandise store at Crescent, Nevada, the receipts being made out to Charles Morris.

A party of cattle drivers happened to pass the cabin last week and made the gruesome discovery. Morris was found lying in a bunk with his boots on. The flesh had fallen from his face and hands and the heat had been so intense as to retard decomposition, the remains merely shrinking.

A careful search was made of the premises, and the remains were examined, but no evidence of violence was found. It is supposed that the intense heat had suffocated the aged man as he was preparing to retire. He has a daughter in New Orleans.

There were two quarts of water in the cabin, indicating that he had not died of lack of water or food.

He is described as 60 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches in height, weight 170 pounds, and wore a long white beard and mustache.

Accidentally Killed at Atolia.

On Monday of this week shortly after going to work in the morning, George Anderson, a young man who had been working in the Papoose mine for several months, was instantly killed by the falling of a bucket, weighing perhaps a hundred pounds, striking him on the head.

No one saw the accident, but from appearances, in moving buckets from a lower to a higher level he had tied one bucket to the bottom of another, and then gave the signal to hoist. He seemed to have followed the buckets up the ladder, and from some cause the lower bucket became detached and falling struck Anderson on the head, breaking his skull and killing him instantly.

His body fell something less than fifty feet, lighting on the platform which covered the shaft at the 250 foot level.

The coroner of San Bernardino county was notified and he came up the same day and held an inquest, with a verdict of accidental death, in accordance with the above circumstantial evidence.

Rev. Amis conducted funeral services Wednesday evening in the miners' hall, after which the remains were taken to Johannesburg to be shipped to the grief stricken mother at Salinas, Calif.

The Atolia and Stringer miners came in to attend the funeral, after which a parade of 112 Union miners followed the remains to the train at Johannesburg.

Farewell Sermon.

Rev. J. H. Amis will preach his farewell sermon Sunday evening at the M. E. church, and Monday evening he will leave for Los Angeles to attend the conference.

Sunday's services close the two years pastorate Rev. Amis has so ably and faithfully served at this place and Johannesburg. He has made many friends while here who regret to see him leave us, but such is the order of the ministerial work. It is probably definitely settled that the conference will send Rev. Amis to a new field of labor and the Methodists here trust it may be a pleasant one for him, where his efforts may be fully appreciated and his ability find a waiting harvest.

During his two years stay in Randsburg Rev. Amis has thoroughly proven himself worthy of the confidence and honor which rightly belong to the minister who consistently lives up to the high ideals he enunciates, and wherever he may be sent his charge will find in him a man who incorporates the Christ-teaching in the every-day life.

We desire to thus publicly thank the many good people of this vicinity who so kindly comforted us in our bereavement and assisted in the burial of our little child.

McCarthy's Tungsten.

Thos. McCarthy's tungsten strike at Atolia is proving better with age, so it is reported. He struck the ledge about 20 feet from the top of the ground and has now followed it down about twenty feet and it is opening up larger the deeper he goes.

If you havent the time to exercise regulafty. Doan's Regulets will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, easy, healthful action of the bowels without griping. Ask your druggist for them. 25c.

Oscar Fredrickson's little four-year-old son O. Christiernson's untimely death was announced evening by a driver's Aster pumping pump.

No one knows just what accident occurred, but the child leaned over from the front seat to draw up the window and was toppled over. He was under and never came up as his little head struck the mud at the bottom of the wheel.

Perhaps an hour after the fellow was missed, a search was instituted and ascertained that he had fallen into the pond, as his hat was seen and with a long pole soon located and brought up.

W. E. McGinn of Los Angeles for Kern county, California, held an inquest, the result of which was a dental death.

Wednesday evening services were held by Mr. McGinn at the remains laid to rest in the Randsburg cemetery.

The news that Col. Goethals has been making the diet fly in Panama, is likely to reconcile the American people to the fact that he has also been making the money fly.

It is strange how perfectly sure some newspapers are that Mr. Bryan will not be the next democratic nominee. They are every bit as sure as some others are that he will be.

A New Jersey contemporary tells of a girl who got a husband by hypnotizing him. That's nothing. Most husbands are ready to swear that they were captured in the same way.

"Taft has no faith in Bryan's cure-alls," says the New Haven Register. Certainly not; has Bryan any faith in Taft's? It is permissible and natural for doctors to disagree, you know.

The trouble Mr. Rockefeller has had in collecting his witness fee won't be a marker to the trouble the government will have when it tries to collect that little fine of $29,000,000 from Mr. Rockefeller.

From Chicago comes word that a citizen of that place is to erect a $9,000 monument to a race horse. Seems funny that a man who likes horses that well can't get rid of his money by doing something for live ones.

The Baltimore News is astonished at the discovery of 50,000 empty whiskey bottles in Waynesboro, Ga., which is a "dry town." But then that is better evidence of dryness than 50,000 full whiskey bottles would be.

The Los Angeles Times says "Mr. Andrew Carnegie will not go down in history very far." That is right where we differ with our contemporary. We feel sure that he will go down quite as far as Rameses II.

Fresno is to have a newspaper devoted to the interests of labor, once more. Its name will be the Fresno the domination of Reef and Schmitz."

The Times' explanation is ingenious, and in the lack of a more likely theory the man who invented it is to be congratulated. Probably the bulk of the Times' readers do not realize that it is as far from San Francisco to Vancouver as it is from London to Madrid and that the San Francisco labor leaders are about as apt to incite a riot in Vancouver as the English working men would be to create a disturbance in the Spanish capital. The San Francisco labor leaders have their hands pretty full at home just now and are not playing any such deep, international game as the Times credits to them. — Bakersfield Echo.

New Men Control Skidoo Bank

Under new management, the bank at Skidoo, Cal., is expected to weather the storm that almost swamped it. Ralph E. Dobbs, who resigned his position as teller in the Bank of Los Angeles to go into the oriental excursion business for his health, has been appointed cashier of the little bank high up in the desert mountains of the Panamint range. Financial backing is secured to keep the concern going.

This little bank, which opened last May with a $25,000 capital stock, of which $1,000 was real money, has had various vicissitudes, but Los Angeles men, with the co-operation of the state bank commission, will keep the concern going, and with the growth of the mining camp that has a future it may yet be profitable. — L. A. Express.

Delightful Afternoon

John Ross and daughter, Miss Mrs. George Carlos Sobichi of honor at an informal Friday afternoon at the home of William H. Mooers on lights. Dainty refreshments served and a delightful afternoon in social converse. Those who meet the newcomers were Rinaldi, Mrs. W. D. Peters, Johnson, Miss Minnie Provis and Jessie Peters. Mrs. Mooers were married at the home of Mrs. Sabichi's parents, Mrs. J. R. Richards, in Oakdale and the two families have known each other for years, consequently the reunion in Randsburg makes the occasion doubly pleasant for all concerned.

Slate Range Party

A party of nine men and five teams left early Wednesday morning for Slate range. The men were all mining men from Southern California. Henry Feeder, an old time friend of Pat Byrne's, was one of the party and several acquaintances.

Some of them drove through from Barstow while Houser furnished the balance of the teams. They are interested in mines out there and will also do some prospecting now that the weather is getting cooler on the desert.

J. D. Langworthy, an old time friend of the editor of THE MINER, was a caller today. Mr. Langworthy was in Randsburg ten years ago and has not been here since. He has just made a trip of a week over in the Radamacher district and the Argus range, prospecting. He says he found many good looking prospects, only requiring development. Today he went out into the tungsten district in company with William Houser. He was long a resident of Kern county, but now lives in Fresno county, and is in the business of conducting parties through the San Juakin river and Yosemite Park, besides ranching and stock raising.

Kain - Littlefield

Salt Lorenzo Kain, native of Ohio, aged 60 years, resident of Randsburg, and Harriett Elizabeth Littlefield, native of New York, resident of Marine City, Michigan, aged 55 years, were granted a marriage license in San Bernardino last Thursday. Mr. Kain is employed as watchman at the Yellow Aster Mine at this place and his many friends who will no doubt be surprised to hear of the happy venture.

THE MINER reporter is unable to learn when or where the marriage took place, and the small boys here will certainly raise "Kain" when the happy bride and groom put in an appearance in Randsburg.

Former Kern County Man Dead

L. A. Johnson, a pioneer of California and a former sheep owner of Kern county, died Saturday in San Francisco. He was aged 73 years, and was a native of St. Charles, Missouri. ## Mr. Singleton Visits Randsburg

John Singleton, of the Yellow Aster Mine, arrived Monday afternoon by way of Mojave. He took the stage from Mojave to Red Rock, the Yellow Aster team meeting him about twenty miles from Randsburg. He is looking fine and appears very much pleased with everything here and we are hoping he will make a good long stay.

Very Rev. Dean Hanson, of Fresno, Cal., will conduct services in the Episcopal church here Sunday, September 29.

Ankle Badly Crushed

Irvin Luther, a freight hauler employed by George Coffey, met with a serious accident at Garden Station last Tuesday evening. Mr. Luther was engaged in hauling a heavy load of freight, when in some manner his foot slipped under one of the wheels and his ankle was badly crushed.

Dr. Sabichi was called and did all he could to relieve the suffering of the unfortunate man, and Wednesday was taken to a hospital in Los Angeles. The doctor thinks he can save the foot if gangrene does not set in before reaching the hospital.

Find Ancient Shotgun

J. R. Lloyd, the saloon man here, has an old-time breech-loading shotgun which was found by him in the old J. H. L. mine. The gun is a single barrel affair of the Zulu type and one of the first breech-loading shotguns made. Lloyd dug the gun out of the old shaft. It is quite a relic and is believed to have been the property of a former owner of the J. H. L. mine during the olden days when Randsburg was but a mining camp. The owner of the gun disappeared and was never heard of afterward.

He and Constable Dave Thompson drove over from Mojave today, starting at 4 a. m. and arriving here before noon with a double team.

Sheriff Kelly was in town Tuesday evening. He came in on business and went out the same evening. While here he attached a payment of $1,500 on the Winnie Mine in favor of the Kern Valley Bank of Bakersfield.

George Coffey returned from Los Angeles a few days ago after taking the young man Laughhead, who was so seriously injured by having a wagon run over him, and reports that the hospital doctors thought they could save his leg, although it was badly crushed.

Mr. Singleton, president of the Yellow Aster Mines, left for Los Angeles Tuesday evening, but expects to return in a few days and make a longer stay. He had not been here for a long time and in the interval has lived most of the time in New York, except about six weeks that he was prospecting in Alaska.

S. P. MacKnight and H. R. Bacon, a mining man from Los Angeles, have taken a lease and bond on the Tungsten Mines owned by Wickard, Byrne and others and have set some men at work. There is a strong probability of selling this property outright, soon as some interested parties are expected in next week.

C. C. Greene, who has been in the employ of the Yellow Aster company in the capacity of mine engineer for the past three years, has severed his connection with the company and will look for work elsewhere. He left for Los Angeles Monday evening and his many warm friends here will expect to see him attain prominence in his profession and give him the heartiest wishes for success.

Desert Bootleggers in Custody

A special to the L. A. Express from San Bernardino dated September 28, says: "The desert communities of Otis, Barstow and Daggett are agog over the arrest of Mrs. Preston, who has kept a hotel for years at Bagdad, and Ed. Meyers, the proprietor of a pool hall in Otis, and Miss Bessie Flynn, also of Otis, for the illegal sale of liquor.

Mrs. Preston was rebellious when the warrant was read to her and refused to accompany the officer to this city. She finally agreed to furnish bond and to follow the other prisoners to the county seat within a few days.

The arrests have been the result of the work of two detectives, who were imported from Los Angeles for the purpose of collecting evidence against the bootleggers on the desert in the dry precincts where the people have voted against the establishment of saloons.

Mrs. Preston has been arrested on two previous occasions, once having been fined $150 and $140 at another time.

The trials will take place before Justice Knoblaugh, in Rialto township, a prohibition community, October 8."

Plenty of Water

The last well put down by W. E. Youle for the Yellow Aster Mining company has been a complete success and has developed, with the supply previously obtained, enough water to run 500 stamps.

The well is down about 1,425 feet and continually increasing the water supply. In sinking, they first went through 600 feet of gravel and sand which gave a good supply, but not content, this was cased off and then some four or five hundred feet of dry ground was struck. After going through that they struck water rock and this has yielded a fine supply of water all the way.

They are into this over 400 feet and it seems to be a quartz which they think would show some value under an assay test. It is possible a much heavier flow will be struck lower and they hope to have it come to the surface, as it now stands within 350 feet of the surface. They expect to have it rise sufficiently high to flow over into the Jennings well from which they pump, as the two are connected by a tunnel.

This is very good fortune for the company, as it effectually solves the question of water supply, the most important item in the milling of ore on the desert.

... have had two ... and a thunderstorm. Last night it began about midnight with a steady downpour until 7 o'clock this morning. Tuesday afternoon it looked awfully black and threatening with distant thunder until after nightfall, when there were several regular old-fashioned eastern appeals of thunder with rain nearly all night. It is pretty early for rains on the desert and we cannot tell what it presages.

Mrs. Ed. McCleery read a paper at the Masonic club social, compiled from her experience as a member of Lieutenant Peary's second expedition in search of the North Pole, which was intensely interesting. It was written in terse, vigorous English and gave one a better insight into the experiences, customs and inhabitants of that inhospitable region than anything we have ever heard. It would be an instructive evening's entertainment if the lady could be induced to read the entire lecture some evening in one of the churches.

Mr. Curtiss, in the employ of C. G. Illingworth, took a wild ride in the rain Tuesday night, not down on the program of a groceryman delivering goods. In the first place our enterprising merchant, Illingworth, owns good stock and has two especially fine teams. Tuesday evening Mr. Curtiss drove one team to Atolia, five miles out, and while delivering the team got away from him, starting out at a 2:40 gait for Kramer. Curtiss procured a saddle horse and followed after in a wild John Gilpin ride. Soon the rain began, he had been thoughtful enough to take a rubber coat but it was in the wagon, so he had to take the rain. He followed until within a couple of miles of Kramer and there met the team coming back. They had the wagon all right, the rubber coat and other things, and had lost nothing but a sack of barley. Mr. Curtiss was dripping wet and cold, but he got back with the team about 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. The team was uninjured, but they looked pretty serious, and so did Curtiss.

Deputy Sheriff Killed

Ed. Silver, a negro, who shot and killed Deputy Sheriff William F. Smithson at Daggart last Saturday was captured Monday night in Cajon pass by a posse in charge of Under Sheriff McNabb, and is now in the county jail, says the San Bernardino Sun.

The negro admits that he killed Smithson and says he shot first, and had on him when captured, the revolver with which he did the deadly work. His capture was effected without firing a shot. The sheriff stationing his men in such a position that if the negro came down the pass, he was certain to be killed if he did not surrender, while the men were so protected that they were not in danger from his gun. Silver is wounded in the left leg, above the knee. He says he does not know whose bullet struck him, but from the conditions, it is more probable that it was from the gun of a hunchback who joined in the fusilade at Silver, after he shot Shithson. Silver says the posse under McNabb got very close to him at Barstow Sunday evening, he having got in just a short distance ahead of them. He caught a freight train out of Barstow and rode to Summit Sunday night, and lay under a culvert at Summit all day Monday. After nightfall, he came out and started to walk down the pass until he was held up by the posse between Keenbrook and Devore. He had not had a bite to eat from Saturday until he was given a substantial meal after his arrival in town at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was ravenously hungry.

The officers that captured the negro stationed themselves for their vigil about 10 o'clock, and had waited only an hour when they discovered Silver coming down the railroad track with a swinging gait, due to his wounded leg. The latter came on, heedless of what he was walking into, when one of the party sang out: "Halt, we're officers; throw up your hands." Silver hesitated an instant, while six officers fingered the triggers on as many weapons, expecting the negro to draw and begin firing. Instead, his hands went up into

New Steamer Route

Direct steamship communication between Seattle and San Diego via San Francisco is soon to be established by the Pacific Coast steamship company, which will inaugurate the service with the steamers Umatilla and Senator. The company is also planning the construction of two turbine steamers, with a speed of 20 knots, for passenger and express service between the north and the southern California port, the boats to have all the accommodations and many of the luxuries of the Atlantic liners and will be the fastest vessels afloat on the Pacific. They will cost $1,200,000 each.

The service to be opened with the Senator and Umatilla will begin within three weeks or a month. The Umatilla is now on the Nome route from Seattle but will be taken off and put on the new run. The Senator is undergoing repairs to fit her for the service.

The vessels will be ready in about a year. They will carry express freight, being equipped with refrigerators for handling Southern California fruits. The schedule between San Francisco and San Diego has been arranged. With stops at Santa Barbara and Redondo the sailing time from San Francisco to San Diego will be fourteen and a half hours.—S. F. Call.

Population of Bakersfield

The Bakersfield Echo of last Tuesday says: "Census Marshal A. Huck stated last evening that he has now canvassed all of that portion of the town north of the track, with the exception of eighteen houses, and everything on the south side of the track east of Baker street and north of S street with the exception of the Western house and the Wells rooming house. He now has on the roll 2280 names, and with a considerable territory east of Baker street and all of that portion of the town west of Baker street south of the track still to canvas it is believed that the total population of the town will be in the neighborhood of 2800. The figures of the census marshals in Bakersfield show approximately 7400 and from present

The six men quickly surrounded him. McNabb caught Silver's hands back over his head and they then searched the negro, taking his revolver, and then was manacled and the tramp for the Glen Helen ranch begun. Arriving there, a three-seater was quickly in commission, and the posse arrived at the jail at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning.

NEGROES DISCHARGED AT BORAX MILLS

DAGGETT, Oct. 21.—All negroes employed at the Borax mill have been discharged and notified to leave town. Some left quietly on the afternoon train today, while others took the trains out tonight.

The expulsion order does not include negroes who have been permanent residents of this place. Feeling is intense against the negroes employed by the Borax company, many of whom have been a source of disturbance for some time. There has been no open act of violence. Those darkies ordered to leave were wise enough to raise no protest so that an open conflict has been avoided.

Cameron Bound Over

"Curly" Cameron was bound over to the supreme court Monday to answer for the murder of Jerry McElvain. Judge Black admitted Cameron to bail in the sum of $10,000, which he was unable to procure. Cameron's trial will not be set before December and he will lie in jail during the intervening time. It is believed more evidence can be obtained for the trial, but there is slight hopes of his conviction on evidence already brought out.—Bakersfield Echo.

The figures of the census marshals in Bakersfield show approximately 7400 and from present indications there appears to be no question but that the combined population of the two towns will materially exceed the 10,000 mark so that incorporation may be had under a charter of the fourth class in case consolidation wins at the polls.

Kern County Colonization

There is rejoicing in Bakersfield because at last a portion of the immense holdings of the Kern County Land Company will be subdivided and placed on the market in colony lots. If the published description of the land so offered, and the claims otherwise made for it, are correct, then there should be no difficulty in disposing of it. It may take time to give publicity to the enterprise, for Kern county's inducements to home-seekers have not become widely known, for the very good reason that there was not much to encourage advertising. Now that some of that fine land will be open for settlement let Bakersfield's Board of Trade get busy. Kern county should be moving right along with Tulare county in this matter of putting new homes on the lands that were created for that very purpose.—Tulare Register.

Curing a Rattler's Bite

While crossing the arid deserts of Nevada some years ago, a gentleman from Milwaukee was bitten by a rattlesnake and gave up all hope. A guide threw him to the ground, and breaking open a cartridge covered the wound with powder. The powder was touched off, cauterizing the wound effectively. The next morning nothing more serious than a stiff leg resulted.—November Popular Mechanics.

More Tungsten Mines

Another rich find of tungsten in San Bernardino county is reported by the Long Beach correspondent of the Los Angeles Express, who says:

"Carl Firhard and Peter Harrison, two local mining men, claim to have struck a veritable bonanza in the form of a tungsten mine on their claims on the Mojave desert.

They returned to Long Beach to complete arrangements for testing the value and extent of the deposit, which they believe will make them immensely wealthy.

Tungsten is an extremely rare metal used in toughening steel for armor-plate and similar purposes and is worth $15 a pound.

Both gentlemen claim that preliminary examinations and tests of the deposit showed 75 per cent tungsten, and that there is a great deposit of it, from all indications. The metal was struck at a depth of but 15 feet."

Redlands Citrograph: "This great county of San Bernardino has reached the "metalliferous age," and the finds of metals are of daily occurrence. Although mining has been going on in this county for more than forty years, yet the ground has scarcely been scratched over. With the advent of railroads crossing the desert in all directions, thus eliminating much of the dangers and hardships of that section, there will be literally hundreds of mines opened and worked at a profit where now naught but solitude prevails.

And the variety of metals found is marvelous. The prospector of forty or fifty years ago only sought for gold, and many of them could not tell any mineral outside of gold. Today the prospector can distinguish at least a half dozen metals. Careful prospect-

It Costs More to Eat Now

The price of everything to be had has been advanced, says an early change. Even the price of food is higher now than a few weeks ago. In many instances the advance has been "slight," but the kind that a man look at his grocery bill three times before he can realize has come to pass.

The big wholesalers have all raised the price of a barrel of black gunpowder and price lists and lifted the price of many other goods. They say they are not to blame either the weather, the green bug or the tin trust, but the tin trust public will have to blame, they say.

The lumbermen charge more for lumber and the tin trust more for tin. Costs from six to nine cents a dozen to pack can goods now, did last year. There is a light in California and labor is very high there these days. Cold weather in sections has killed the fruit this season is backward in all sections that canned fruits and vegetables selling for more now than ever.

The advance is not in commodities only. Salt is worth ten cents a barrel more, flour sixty-five cents a barrel and ham, bacon, beef steaks, chops in proportion. It is a regular stampede to high prices with little prospect of relief.

Even the oyster beds have been affected this season on account of stormy weather, earthquakes or some other cause not known. But it is certain that the Oyster has taken a tumble for water or scattered in the sea.

The man from Germany, who has been congratulating himself on being able to buy canned sauerkraut for a few cents of the new canned goods varieties have to take from his pocket a few more money now when he buys

The Value of Tungsten

THERE is always something fascinating about minerals, especially those that command a high price in the market. Among these there is no doubt that tungsten is the most interesting, because it is one of the youngest minerals known to commerce. Already it has been the victim of many a fake story and perverted report. The fabricator being in little danger of contradiction, feels free to give his imagination full rein. Only a short time ago an otherwise reputable mining journal published an article concerning this new metal, in course of which the statement was made that tungsten was now being used for making frogs, especially for street car tracks where the switch had to be thrown very frequently, and that a frog of tungsten would outwear ten frogs of ordinary steel.

In truth a frog of tungsten alloy—it is never employed for any other purpose than alloy—would be so brittle that it would go to pieces in a few hours. The most common error concerning the use of tungsten is that it is employed in the making of armor plate and heavy projectiles. It is not difficult to trace this mistake to its source. Tungsten alloy is used in the manufacture of tools for cutting steel, especially such tools as are run at high speed. The lathe work on the steel jackets of projectiles and the paring and trimming of the sections of armor plate for battleships is all done with tools of tungsten alloy. Some such statement as this was probably read and misconstrued by the public.

The peculiar black mineral was first used in laboratory experiments by Robert Muchet, a German chemist, who knew absolutely nothing of its peculiar properties. He had made a vareity of alloys and was comparing results when he observed that some of the blocks of steel, which he had neglected to plunge into water, had become very hard. The idea of hardening steel without water was an entirely new one, and the chemist pursued his line of investigation until he succeeded in making a much better grade of steel than any

We hardly know what to think of the progress of civilization. One state is considering the question of abolishing capital punishment while another is talking about installing phonographs in its jails.

The Boston tailor who has invented a secret pocket for trousers, merely has his trouble for his pains. He fails utterly to appreciate the combined prowess of woman's natural inclination coupled with whetted curiosity.

Some one is trying to stir up excitement over the discovery that Scotch whisky is made in Japan. What of it? Are not plenty of Irish potatoes grown in Germantown, and Turkish cigarettes made in New York's Ghetto?

alloys and was comparing results when he observed that some of the blocks of steel, which he had neglected to plunge into water, had become very hard. The idea of hardening steel without water was an entirely new one, and the chemist pursued his line of investigation until he succeeded in making a much better grade of steel than any that had hitherto been known.

That was in 1872 and it was not until 1898 that a practical use for the tungsten alloy was found. Tungsten was to be had in such small quantities that its sphere of activity was practically limited to the laboratory.

Before the discovery of the properties of tungsten, there was a definite limit to the rate at which tools for cutting and sawing steel could be run, because of the heat developed at the point of contact. The old-fashioned chisel, even when operated slowly, was worthless after two large projectiles had been finished. The edge was gone entirely. The chisel made of tungsten alloy works better when it is operated at such a speed as to develop enormous heat than it does when operated slowly. Whereas the ordinary tool cuts a steel chip at the rate of twenty-five lineal feet a minute, the tungsten tool has been known to cut a chip two hundred feet long in the same time, without injury to the tool. With this basis of comparison it may readily be seen that although the common alloy costs two cents a pound and the tungsten alloy costs sixty-five cents a pound, the latter is the cheaper in the long run.

Wood working tools are also now made of air-hardened tungsten steel, the metal so hard that it cannot be cut but must be shaped by grinding on the emery wheel. In some instances it is so brittle that it must be re-heated to prevent it from crumbling. Because of this brittleness it is easy to perceive that tungsten alloy would be worthless for armor plate or railroad frogs. It is of inestimable value to the machinist, the locomotive manufacturer and the worker in refractory metals and wood. Scientific men are now at work seeking other uses to which it may be put. — L. A. Herald Weekly Magazine.

An evening or two ago we all wondered why our popular justice was arrayed in his best clothes, with flowers on his lappel and looking really scrumptious. We afterwards learned it was a wedding, but there is many a slip, etc., etc., the principals had omitted one important particular, they had failed to secure a license, hence all this preparation came to naught.

Death of Mrs. Elvina M. Wolfe

Mrs. Elvina M. Wolfe, wife of John D. Wolfe, of Los Angeles, died at Johannesburg on November 7, 1907, and was buried there Sunday, November 10.

Her maiden name was Techtentine, and her parents live near Saginaw, Michigan, where she was born March 23, 1878.

She had been in poor health for several years, and on that account came to Los Angeles two years ago with her husband in search of milder climate. About three weeks ago they left Los Angeles by private conveyance for Garden station where Mr. Wolfe was engaged to work for a Los Angeles mining company. They encountered bad weather and had some unfortunate mishaps, finally reaching Johannesburg on November 3, where Mrs. Wolfe grew worse and died among strangers in a strange land. But the good people of Johannesburg were very kind and everything possible was done to minister to the sick wife and to comfort and aid the bereaved husband. A brief service was held at the house and the burial service read at the grave by the writer.

Though the deceased was a stranger to all, the people attended the funeral in large numbers, and the sympathy was as tender and the tears as copious as if she had been an old friend, which speaks volumes for the kind-hearted people of that town. God bless the sad bereaved brother as he treads his lonely way to the happy greeting beyond earth's shadows.

ALLEN BARTLEY.

Teagle Brothers, of Johannesburg, have thrown a dam across a ravine at the old Summit diggings six or eight miles north of Johannesburg, for the purpose of impounding water sufficient during the winter months to do some sluicing of ground that is not rich enough to pay for dry-washing, but which will pay well if it can be sluiced. ### New Saloon

The new saloon opened up Tuesday evening by Emil Waldeck, Herman Schulz and Julius Shade is perhaps the best equipped to start with of any in the town.

The building erected, and owned by these gentlemen, is of concrete with thick walls and square front 25x30 feet in dimensions, with cellar and a concrete ice house 16x30 feet, in the rear. It took a lot of hard, patient work, but the boys stuck to it.

The bar and fixtures are elegant and were purchased from the Los Angeles Brewing company and are first class with every convenience for rapid work. The boys are old-timers here and have hosts of friends and they will do their share of business.

In addition they will do a wholesale business in liquors, beer and ice, and will later put on a wagon.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

If a gentleman should choose
 To wait upon a lady
 If the lady don't refuse?
 Or, to speak a little plainer,
 That the meaning all may know—
 Is it anybody's business
 If a lady has a beau?
 Is it anybody's business
 When that gentleman does call.
 Or when he leaves the lady,
 Or if he leaves at all?
 And is it necessary
 That the curtains should be drawn
 To save from further trouble
 The outside lookers-on?
 Is it anybody's business
 But the lady's if her beau
 Rides out with other ladies,
 And doesn't let her know?
 Is it anybody's business,
 But the gentleman's, if she Should accept another escort
 Where he doesn't chance to be?
 Is a person on the sidewalk,
 Whether great or whether small.
 Is it anybody's business
 Where that person means to call?
 Or if you see a person,
 As he's calling anywhere.
 Is it any of your business
 What his bussiness may be there?
 The substance of our queries
 Simply stated, would be this:
 Is it anybody's business
 What another's business is?
 If it is, or if it isn't,
 We should really like to know,
 For we're certain if it isn't
 There are some who make it so.
 If it is, we'll join the rabble,
 And act the noble part,
 Of the tattlers and defamers -
 Who throng the public mart.
 But if not, we'll act the teacher
 Until each meddler learns
 It were better in the future
 To mind his own concerns.

 Which same we are free to mantain,

To Form New Mining District

A party of fifty Los Angeles and San Bernardino mining men, left last Thursday for the desert for the purpose of forming a new mining district. All are stockholders of the Kramer Consolidated Oil Company, which besides oil wells, also operates a number of quartz mines in this county. The territory which it is proposed to take into the new district comprises townships 9, 10, 11 and 12 north, ranges 4, 5, 6 and 7 west, S.B.M.
 Also townships 32 and 20, ranges 32, 41,
 43 and 44 east, Mt. Diablo meridian. —

Ballarat Lively

John L. Ramsey reports that Ballarat camp is quite active. At the time he passed through last week, the machinery for two new reduction plants was on the ground—one for the Snow Canyon Mining Company in Snow canyon and the other for a property on the south side of the camp. Several encouraging strikes have been made in the vicinity, and it looks as if the camp is at the commencement of a busy season. — Skidoo News.

and his mother hopes he will gain perfect health. He is one of the brightest babies that come to the place.

Turkey Shoot

Gun Club turkey shoot was an unsuccess and developed some splendid sports among our young men. There were twenty-four birds and the distances were 150 yards, shooting at the bird's head and 300 yards at the tail of the bird.

Sam Cheney, the druggist, proved to be a champion shootist, he winning three birds.

Frankland and "Curley" came in with three each to their credit.

Witt and the Mill-Man at Randsburg won two each. M. E. have got one and the rest were scattered among others with one to each.

The shooting was kept up nearly all day and was good sport. Randsburg men are so good that if a man expects to make much money on a turkey he had better put the turkeys over the hill out of sight. Yesterday the four shots got two turkeys.

Parents of Randsburg

The disorder and confusion in the post office lobby when the mail is being distributed is becoming unbearable. I have spoken of it many times, but it gets worse rather than better. If parents do not control their children and teach them to behave in public places, another method will be found. It will not be so pleasant, but it will be effective.

Everybody is anxious the mail should be distributed quickly, especially when late as it often is. No one can work efficiently, or rapidly with a lot of half grown children, both boys and girls, yelling and tumbling over each other in the lobby and it must be stopped. This is not a pleasant thing to write and I regret it, but it must be apparent to everyone that the postoffice is not a place for children to romp and play in. If children are sent for mail let them get it and leave. No children are allowed to loaf around the office in daylight, but at night when the mail is being worked they take advantage of the opportunity. No man has greater love for the little folks, nor more consideration for them, than I, but is not kindness to them to permit them to do rude things at the expense of the comfort of others.

Santa Claus at the M. E. Church

The methodist church people had a nice entertainment and Christmas Tree Tuesday evening. Santa Claus was there to the delight of the little tots. The tree was loaded down with gifts for all the good little girls and boys. The church was beautifully decorated with greenery around the alter and red Christmas bells were hung all overhead, giving the room a look of winter and holiday season.

The following program was rendered: Song, Joy to the World, by congregation; Responsive reading by the Superintendent and School; Prayer by Mr. Denman, who also gave a short address to the children explaining "What Christmas Means." Exercise, The Little Forget-me-nots by Miss Little's Class; Recitation by Blanche Henderson; Song by Merel Rockhold; Exercise Some Boys of the Bible by Mrs. Peters' Class; Recitation by Frank Flannigan; Recitation by Bessie Heck; Exercise, Sharon's Rose; Recitation by Julia Richardson; Exercise, The Stars by Mrs. Flannigan's Class; Song, Will There be Any Stars in My Crown by six girls; Song, Christmas Carol, by Sunday School.

It was a great disappointment that Rev. Mr. Bartley was unable to be present. The last report is that he is still suffering from rheumatism and unable to return. ## Death of Eugene Garlock

Although we had no certain knowledge of the fact we copy from the Californian of Bakersfield the notice of Mr. Garlock's death and burial at Santa Ana on the 24th inst. "Mr. Garlock has resided in Kern county for the past twenty years and was prominent a farmer at Tehacipi and as a miner on the desert."

The fact is that he was taken seriously ill with sore eyes at Garlock some six weeks ago and when the Masonic Club at this place discovered his condition the editor of the Miner drove down to Garlock with a team furnished by Mr. Burcham and brought him here to the Yellow Astor Hospital where he was cared for and treated by Dr. Sabichi for five weeks, the club furnishing a night nurse. On the 12th of this month his troubles increased by a stroke of paralysis and he became unconscious. On Friday evening the 13th he was sent to his brother in Los Angeles, Walter Mattingly a young man from here being sent with him. And now it appears that he is dead and buried. It is better so, being blind and helpless, the once strong and active man was source of sympathy to all who knew him. We feel glad that we were able to help him even a little.
