

REPORT ON MINE

0

The Bonanza King Mine is situated in Trojan Mining District, San Bernardino County, California, and is one of a group of mines claimed by the Bonanza King Consolidated Mining Company.

The silver bearing ore occurs chiefly at or near the contact of the heavy beds of limestone with an overlying body of metamorphic granite, the contact apparently dipping sharply to the east.

The center line of the claim and principal explorations follow closely this line of contact but more or less ore occurs in the limestones to the west.

The explorations on the mine consist of one main shaft 240 feet deep and several thousand feet of drifts and winzes and miner shafts.

The surface improvements include hoisting works, blacksmith shop, ore dumps, road etc. The expenditure on the claim is vastly in excess of five hundred dollars.

This claim is bounded on the south by the Defiance, on the east by the Cliff Claim, on the north by the Bonanza King North Extension and on the west by the Rattler and Bonanza Queen.

R.H.STRETCH,

U.S. Deputy Mineral Surveyor.
